

RESEARCH FELLOW (EPIDEMIOLOGY)

The Epidemiology group in the Institute of Applied Health Sciences is looking to have a Research Fellow join the team. The group is a key part of the Institute of Applied Health Sciences. The post will be based within the musculoskeletal and/or methodology programmes of the group about which further information can be obtained at www.abdn.ac.uk/epidemiology. The post represents an excellent opportunity for an individual with drive and initiative to develop a research portfolio of international standing in these areas.

You will have recently received a postgraduate qualification in epidemiology (or closely related area), and will have evidence of research achievement.

As this post is funded externally, it will be offered until 30 June 2014.

Salary will be at the appropriate point on the Grade 6 scale, £29,972 per annum.

Informal enquiries may be made to either Professor Gary Macfarlane or Dr. Gareth Jones at epidemiology@abdn.ac.uk

Should you require a visa to undertake paid employment in the UK you will be required to fulfil the minimum points criteria to be granted a Certificate of Sponsorship and Tier 2 visa. As appropriate, at the time an offer of appointment is made you will be asked to demonstrate that you fulfil the criteria in respect of financial maintenance and competency in English. Please do not hesitate to contact Ms Lynda Johnston, HR Adviser, tel: 01224 437064, email: Lynda.johnston@abdn.ac.uk for further information on this.
